

Summer Programs

Extensive list from all states at <http://www.hoagiesgifted.org/summer.htm>

- Arkansas Governor's School for seniors provides four weeks of exciting learning and social engagement with peers of similar intellect in the fields of choral music, drama, English-language arts, instrumental music, mathematics, natural science, social science, and visual arts. There is no cost, but students must apply and be accepted to attend. <http://www.hendrix.edu/ags>
- University of Arkansas Gifted and Talented Scholars holds iCamps. <http://gtscholars.uark.edu> or Leslie Yingling lyinlin@uark.edu
- University of Arkansas Engineering camps (grades 6-12) www.engr.uark.edu/summerprograms
- Ozark Natural Science Center programs include Fledgling Naturalist (ages 8-9), Junior Naturalist I and II (ages 10-11), Senior Naturalist (ages 12-14), and Ozark Field Expedition (ages 13-17). www.onsc.us/summer
- Summer Gifted Studies Program (grades 4-8) at the University of Southern Mississippi/Karnes Center for Gifted Students (Hattiesburg, MS) www.usm.edu/gifted/Sum_Gifted_Studies.html
- Constitutional Academy (grades 11-12) from the Bill of Rights Institute is one week in Arlington, Virginia, working with historical documents, hearing lectures from nationally-recognized scholars, discussing with other students, visiting historic sites including a guided tour of Washington, DC—and students may earn 3-hours of college credit. 703-894-1776 or www.BillofRightsInstitute.org
- Baylor University (Waco, TX) Center for Community Learning and Enrichment hosts its University for Young People during the month of June. 254-710-2171 or www.baylor.edu/soe/index.php?id+65437
- iD Tech holds camps and academies in 26 states (ages 7-18); the events focus on computers, gaming, visual arts, and programming. www.internaldrive.com
- NASA hosts Space Camp for ages 9-11, Space Academy for ages 12-14, and Advanced Space Academy for ages 15-18. www.spacecamp.com
- Yunasa camp in Fenton, Michigan, sponsored by the Institute for Educational Advancement for highly gifted children ages 10-14 integrating intellectual, emotional, social, spiritual, and physical aspects of their lives. www.educationaladvancement.org