Butterfield Trail Middle School
Student Services Program
Revised July, 2018

The development of this student services plan reflects input from parents, teachers, principal and other agencies. It is derived from a needs survey developed and administered by the counselor of Butterfield Trail Middle School.

Butterfield Trail Middle School has developed and implemented a plan which ensures that individual student services are coordinated using different techniques to make maximum use of the contribution of each service. The plan reflects the use of alternative methods of classroom management, which include, but are not limited to the following:

1. Behavior contracting
2. Dispute resolution
3. Classroom meetings
4. Logical consequences
5. Assertive discipline

Identified alternative student services personnel who do not meet traditional graduate requirements shall be limited to performing those services for which they are licensed, certified, or trained. This may include paraprofessionals, teachers, parents and representatives of business and industry.

A “student services program” is defined as a coordinated effort which shall include, but is not limited to:

I. Guidance services

- A. Individual and group counseling is available to all students on a referral basis. The students may be referred by parents, teachers, principal, or may refer themselves.
- B. Orientation programs for new students and for transferring students
 1. Butterfield has a Student Council Ambassador program where students are selected and trained from each grade. The Ambassador Program has one of its objectives, the orientation of new students to our school. We also conduct 5th grade visits, bringing upcoming 6th grade students to their new building for tours.
 2. We do not have a formal “exit interview” with middle school students. If we know the child is leaving our school, we always wish them happiness and success in their new school.
- C. At the middle school level, all the scheduling is done by the school counselors.
- D. Consultation with parents, faculty and out-of-school agencies concerning student problems and needs
 1. Time is allotted in the counselor’s schedule specifically for consultation with parents, teachers and other agencies.
- E. Utilization of student records and files
 1. Standardized test scores are available for teachers to integrate with other factors in determining student grouping for optimum learning.
 2. Standardized test scores are used in conjunction with other factors to determine placement in the Gifted and Talented Program. Students receive a screening evaluation in the First Grade. Other grade level teachers many recommend screening.
 3. Student records and files are used to alert teachers and other school personnel to medical conditions of students.

4. Student records and files are used to inform teachers and other school personnel of legal guardianship and access to student mandates.
- F. Supervision of standardized testing and interpretation of results
 1. The counselor is the school test coordinator and as such supervises all standardized testing and Special Services testing.
- G. The follow-up of early school dropouts and graduates does not apply to the middle level except with preventative measures related to the enhancement of self-esteem and drug awareness, etc.
- H. A school initiated system of parent involvement
 1. Parent Teacher Association (PTA) membership drives
 2. School Volunteer Program in which parents volunteer time to help at school as tutors or aides in some area that helps the school function and involves parents
 3. Room parents are used by the teacher to facilitate special activities or field trips for students in that room.
 4. Parents and grandparents are encouraged to eat lunch here at school with their child.
 5. A Parent Involvement Coordinator has been assigned to facilitate parent involvement.
 6. Parent Literacy Night offers parents an opportunity to see and learn how the school is teaching literacy.
 7. Parent Math Night offers parents an opportunity to see and learn how the school is teaching math.
 8. Clubs allow parents to be involved in teaching their children the value of community service.
- I. An organizational system of informational resources on which to base educational and vocational decision making
 1. Career awareness units are taught by the counselor and the classroom teachers.
 2. Visits are made by local community helpers such as the police, Fire department, dentist, local bank employees, etc.
 3. Educational co-op materials and Career Grant materials corresponding with career guidance lessons
 4. Utilization of materials available in our school library
- J. At the middle level, educational and job placement, including advising students on the availability of vocational and alternative programs that could provide successful high school completing opportunities for students at risk of dropping out of school is addressed in a preventative manner.
 1. At-risk student identification
 2. Positive self concept programs and self-esteem guidance lessons
- II. Psychological services, which shall include but not be limited to the following:
 - A. Evaluation of students with learning or adjustment problems
 1. Observation of students in the classroom
 2. Behavior specialists are available from the educational cooperative
 3. Individual counseling with students and/or parents of students who are being referred for special services
 4. Western Arkansas Counseling and Guidance, BOST, and Preferred Family Health provides in-school counseling programs with case management provided when necessary.

5. A Therapeutic Day Treatment program is available for the district, involving a teacher, aide, counselor and social worker.
 - B. Evaluation of students in exceptional-child education programs
 1. Counselor conducts required observation for Special Education referral
 2. Testing is conducted by a psychological examiner employed by the Van Buren School District
 3. Gifted and Talented program coordinator tests and evaluates data for placement in program
 4. An ESL program is provided for identified students.
 - C. The counselor holds conferences with parents and school personnel regarding Psychological testing, placement options, and adjustments to the program.
 - D. A system for the early identification of learning potential and factors which affect the child's educational performance
 1. Special Education referral system
 2. Testing and evaluation for Gifted and Talented
 3. Special Education speech screening
 4. Testing for ELL
 5. School nurse conducts yearly vision and hearing screenings
 6. Student Intervention Team (SIT) for Response to Intervention (RTI)
 7. Adaptive computer software that identifies gaps in student learning and increase mastery in all subject areas.
 - E. A system of liaison and referrals with resources are available outside the school. Counselors and Special Education personnel consult and make referrals to the following agencies:
 1. Comprehensive Juvenile Services
 2. Western Arkansas Counseling and Guidance
 3. Bost CARES
 4. Preferred Family Health Counseling Services
 5. Department of Human Services
 6. Police and Sheriff's Department – on staff resource officer
 7. Hamilton House and other private helping agencies
 - F. The school district has written policies which follow federal, state and local guidelines which assure ethical procedures in psychological activities.
- III. Visiting teacher and school social work services which shall include but not be limited to:
- A. Providing casework to assist in the prevention and remediation of problems of attendance, behavior adjustment, and learning
 1. Classroom teachers and counselors work with the Indirect Services Provider in conjunction with the Special Education Department.
 2. The Emotional/Behavioral Specialist from the Co-op provides screening and consultation on specific cases.
 3. Comprehensive Juvenile Services works with the school in filing Family In Need Of Services petitions for the purpose of dealing with absenteeism.
 - B. Serving as liaison between the home and school by making home visits and referring students and parents to appropriate school and community agencies for assistance
 1. Department of Human Services—Child and Family Services Division

2. Comprehensive Juvenile Services works with the school in filing petitions for Family In Needs Of Services.
- IV. Occupational and placement services, which shall include but are not limited to the dissemination of career education information, placement services, and follow-up studies and not appropriate at the elementary level.
- V. Group conflict resolution services
- A. Educational and social programs which help students develop skills which enable them to resolve conflicts between groups
 1. Classroom guidance lessons regarding these issues
 2. Small group counseling with conflict resolution
 3. Individual counseling
 - B. Programs designed to promote understanding, positive communication, and a greater use of a race relations specialist or human relations specialist to assist in the development of inter-group skills
 1. The school counselor serves the school as a race relations specialist and works in the areas of human relations with the students in classroom guidance and with others as need arises.
 2. Classroom lessons are conducted by the counselor on all grade levels to promote understanding and acceptance of self and others.
 3. Character Education Program
 4. Clubs are provided to children to build leadership and community awareness
 - C. Anti-Bullying

Van Buren School District has an obligation to and is committed to providing a safe learning environment for each of its students. Student achievement is best attained in an atmosphere that is free from the fear of emotional and physical intimidations and threats. Bullying is a destructive behavior that will erode the foundational principles on which a school is built. This school will not tolerate any behavior that is classified under the definition of bullying and will take steps needed to eliminate such behavior.

Believing that prevention is the strongest means available in eliminating bullying, this school will offer programs or educational material regarding the nature of bullying, its consequences should a child choose to engage in this type of behavior, and the procedures for reporting an incident which involves bullying. The information will emphasize that this district will not tolerate bullying, and that school employees, volunteers, and students are encouraged to report any instances of bullying without fear of consequences. Any reports will take into account the age of the offending student, the level of seriousness of the behavior, and whether or not the offending student has developed a habit of engaging in bullying behavior. Appropriate measures will be taken in dealing with such students.

It will be considered a violation of this policy for any student to inflict bullying behavior upon another student(s) as defined in this policy. After completing an investigation of the reported incident, a student who was found to have participated in bullying behavior will be subject to disciplinary action that is appropriate to the degree of seriousness of the bullying behavior.

For the purposes of this policy, bullying is defined as any written or verbal expression or physical act or gesture, or a pattern thereof, that is intended to cause distress or fear upon one or more students. A student will be found violating this policy if their conduct has been found to have the effect of humiliation or embarrassment on a student, and is sufficiently severe, persistent, or pervasive that it limits the student's ability to participate in, or benefit from, an educational program or activity.

Bullying behavior will generally be established when an individual has endured a pattern of offensive behavior or when a single serious act is committed. What is or isn't bullying will depend on the surrounding circumstances.

Students who believe they have been victimized by a bully or parents who believe their child has been victimized by a bully, should file a complaint by contacting a school counselor, teacher, principal, or superintendent who will assist in getting help for the child and take the appropriate steps to ensure that such behavior is stopped. To the extent possible, complaints will be treated in a confidential manner. Limited disclosure may be necessary in order to complete a thorough investigation. Students, parents, or teachers who file a complaint against a student who is guilty of being a bully, will not be subject to retaliation or reprisal in any form.

Students or adults, who knowingly fabricate allegations and falsely accuse a student of being a bully, will be subject to disciplinary action.

Individuals who withhold information, purposely provide inaccurate facts, or otherwise hinder an investigation of a student for the purposes of bullying, shall be subject to disciplinary action.

- VI. The school nurse provides health services to the school
 - A. A vision and hearing screening is conducted by the nurse.
 - B. The nurse is on call to respond to any emergency situation.
 - C. A BMI screening is done yearly.
 - D. The school nurse participates in support meetings such as IEP, behavior, etc.
- VII. School suicide/ crisis team
 - A. The school has access to the state adopted curriculum, Lifelines, and those materials are available in the counseling office.
 - B. Suicide is addressed at the middle level in in grade level meetings and in advisory groups Individual students may be referred to the counselor if a teacher or other school personnel feel that the child is experiencing suicidal ideology.
 - C. The school has a crisis team
- VIII. School counselors shall spend at least seventy five percent (75%) of work time providing direct counseling related to students. They shall devote no more than twenty five percent (25%) of work time to administrative activities, provided that such activities relate to the provision of guidance services.
- X. Preparing for Terrorism-We used to think of schools as safe havens. Then we began to worry about strangers or estranged family members who might come to schools to look for children. Next we began to worry about violence from students in our schools, especially after the 1999 Columbine High School shootings in Colorado. School districts throughout the nation responded with heightened safety procedures -- procedures that were put into use during the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks on Americans. Then came the terrorist attack against a school in Beslan, Russia in September 2004. Butterfield has a current crisis planning policy to address terrorism.

1. Staff Expectations

Teachers and support staff are trained on updated procedures and practice lock-down drills
Adult supervision is provided inside and outside the school before, after, and during school

2. Facilities Management

Measures to take include: Clearly defining the perimeter with fences, gates, signage, etc.

Using security technology for monitoring purposes, including in parking areas and areas around the school. Butterfield has 30 security cameras installed in and around campus to help monitor the grounds. The SRO can view the cameras at anytime.

XI. Development of Institution-specific pandemic influenza preparedness & response

1. The development of this document is based on the following assumptions:

A. In the event of an influenza pandemic the State will have minimal resources available for on-site local assistance, and therefore local authorities and institutions will be responsible for community-specific pandemic response plans, including the modification of this document so that it is institution-specific.

B. Local communities may have emergency preparedness plans and/or pandemic influenza plans in place. Local community leaders and institutions will communicate so that each is aware of the others' plans.

C. The federal government has limited resources allocated for State and local plan implementation, and therefore the State will provide supplementary resources in the event of a pandemic, which may include the redirection of personnel and monetary resources from other programs.

D. The federal government has assumed the responsibility for developing materials and guidelines, including basic communication materials for the general public on influenza, influenza vaccine, antiviral agents, and other relevant topics in various languages; information and guidelines for health care providers; and training modules. Until these materials are developed, the State has the responsibility to develop such materials for its citizens.

E. The supply of antiviral medications used for prevention and treatment of influenza will be limited.

World Health Organization (WHO) Phases

The pandemic phases described in this document are those that have been established by the World Health Organization. The most recent publication of the phases is summarized in Table 1 below. The State's response to a pandemic will be guided by the WHO phase declaration (see State of New Hampshire Influenza Pandemic Public Health Preparedness and Response Plan [currently in draft form and available at <http://www.dhhs.state.nh.us/DHHS/CDCS/flu-provider.htm>]). This response will include specific considerations during each phase of the pandemic regarding surveillance, vaccine delivery, administration of antivirals, and communications. In addition, there must be actions taken on the local level in each phase, particularly with respect to community-based containment measures. This plan for educational institutions provides recommendations for activities in response to WHO phases and also notes the corresponding alert matrix system being used in the hospital-developed Epidemic Respiratory Infection (ERI) plan (see Table 2 and process below for further explanation of the ERI plan). It should be noted that at the time of writing this document (January 2006), we are in WHO Phase

Table 1. WHO Pandemic Phases
